CONSUL JEWETT'S PLUCK. The United States Government has one man in the Consular service in the Turkish empire of whom it may be proud. That man is Dr. Milo K. Jewett, United States Consul at Sivas, who has again been showing the Turkish Government officials that one inited States flag above him, is not afraid frany number of Kurds and Turks. It was on Nov. 15 that the cyclone of destruction that had been sweeping over Asia Amor struck the city of Sivas. Sivas is a lince of about 24.000 inhabitants, of whom arge proportion are Armenians, and here at American mission has been established under the direction of Dr. Perry. When the danger was seen to be approaching, Dr. Perry made repeated representations to the Turkish Kalmakam (Governor), both in person and through Consul Jewett, to the effect that all Americans and American property was under the protection of the property was under the protection of the Tarkish Government, and that the responsibility for any injury would rest with them. The Governor, as usual, promised, and did nothing, and, in fact, assured the missionaries that there was nothing to fear. Suddenly on Nov. 15, like lightning out to a clear sky, came the massacre—a bugle a shot, a yell, and then the rattling of the screams of the hunted and ded, the crashing in of doors, and the of triumph. Dr Jewett was in his when the first shot proclaimed the below of the slaughter. There was no colose. Next to Armemans a Turmob hates the American missionaries.

The mob hates the American missionaries. He seized his revolver, took his sword, summoned his kavass, and without a minute's hesitation leaped on his horse and started for the missionary grounds. THE VILLAGE REPORT.

The annual report of the Village Trustees and Water Commissioners has been printed. The report of the Trus tees shows one side of their account, lows that of the Trustees and from that we learn that there is $1517.95 in come from taxes has been $4064.69, the receipts from the Water Commis-sion have been $3684,95 and from money borrowed or other sources has been $1006.00 making in all $10,273.62. Deducting from this sum the cash on hand and the amount which was turned back into the treasury by the Water Commission making in all $5009 49 we find that the expenses of the village for the year have been $5264 13. This does not include the hydrant rents because that sum is turned back immediately into the village treasury. This expense includes the purchase of hose and hose carts which will not have to be replaced for some years, and apparently no new streets or roads will have to be built in the limits of the village during the present year. This all looks very satisfactory and unless some unforseen accident happens the 25 per cent recommended in the report would seem to be sufficient for all ordinary expenses.

The Water Commission has expend The Water Commission has expended and the larger part was expended in thawing out the pipes last winter and in relaying about half a mile of new pipe. The income from water rents was $1014.28, which move than pays the interest on the money borrowed and ordinary expenses of the care of the system by $47.45. We have no doubt but that the extraordinary is the first of a series of papers on the expenses of the system will be greatly subject. Then there is an article on reduced this year.
